FALL STUDENT INTERNS

The Fourth Court of Appeals is accepting applications from second and third year law students for nonpaying judicial internships during the Fall Semester of 2018. The program offers law students the opportunity to improve legal research and writing skills while acquiring a “behind-the-scenes” view of an intermediate appellate court. Interns will be selected to work in the chambers of one of the court’s seven justices. Work will include cite-checking opinions, researching civil and criminal law issues, writing legal memoranda, discussing cases with the court’s justices and attorneys, and observing oral argument.

Work must be scheduled in partial or full-day blocks during the court’s normal work hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Within those limits, scheduling is flexible. Interns may be eligible for course credit with their law school’s prior approval. Interns must take an oath of office to preserve the confidentiality of the court’s information and work product. During the internship, any legal work, paid or unpaid, for any entity other than this court will be subject to a conflicts check and must be pre-approved by the court. Interns use Microsoft Word as a word processor and their law school student account (e.g., LexisNexis, Westlaw) for legal research. The court does not allow interns to use any work product from the court as a writing sample.

To apply, please e-mail the following documents, in the order listed below, as a single PDF to Elizabeth.Montoya@txcourts.gov.

- a cover letter indicating you are applying for an intern position,
- a résumé,
- a law school transcript (unofficial),
- a certification of class rank, and
- a writing sample no longer than ten 8 1/2" x 11" pages.

The cover letter, résumé, and writing sample portions of the application must be electronically searchable; bookmarks are preferred but not required. Where a signature is required, an electronic image signature is preferred, but a /s/ signature block is acceptable.

The file name must be the student’s last name, first name, middle initial (if any), the term applied for (i.e., Summer), 2018, and “Internship _Application” with each file name element delimited with underscores.

For example, Maria G. De Los Reyes's application for a summer internship must be named as follows:

DeLosReyes_Maria_G_Summer_2018_Internship_Application

Applications must be received not later than 8:00 am on Wednesday, May 30, 2018. Please do not send applications to the individual justices of the court. The court will base its decisions on the applications received, individual interviews, or both.
