 JUDGE: 366TH DISTRICT COURT
 COLLIN COUNTY, TEXAS

THE STATE OF TEXAS § IN THE 366TH JUDICIAL
VS. § DISTRICT COURT OF BRANDON DUPREE DALE § COLLIN COUNTY, TEXAS

CHARGE OF THE COURT

MEMBERS OF THE JURY:

The defendant, BRANDON DUPREE DALE, stands charged by indictment with the offense of Capital Murder, alleged to have been committed on or about the 4th day of June, 2021, in Collin County, Texas. To this charge the defendant has pleaded not guilty.

Our law provides that a person commits the offense of murder if the person intentionally or knowingly causes the death of an individual.

A person commits capital murder when he intentionally commits the offense of murder in the course of committing or attempting to commit the offense of robbery.

Our law provides that a person commits the offense of robbery if, in the course of committing theft and with the intent to obtain or maintain control of the property, he 1) intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly causes bodily injury to another; OR 2) intentionally or knowingly threatens or places another in fear of imminent bodily injury or death.

A person acts intentionally, or with intent, with respect to the result of his conduct when it is his conscious objective or desire to cause the result.

A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to a result of his conduct when he is aware that his conduct is reasonably certain to cause the result.

A person acts recklessly, or is reckless, with respect to a result of his conduct when he is aware of but consciously disregards a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the result will occur. The risk must be of such a nature and degree that its disregard constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that an ordinary person would exercise under all the circumstances as viewed from the actor's standpoint.

"Individual" means a person who has been born and was alive.

"Attempt" means to commit an act with specific intent to commit an offense where the act committed amounts to more than mere preparation but fails to effect the commission of the offense intended.

You are instructed that a person is criminally responsible as a party to an offense if the offense is committed by his own conduct, by the conduct of another for which he is criminally responsible, or by both. Each party to an offense may be charged with commission of the offense.

A person is criminally responsible for an offense committed by the conduct of another if acting with intent to promote or assist the commission of the offense, he solicits, encourages, directs, aids, or attempts to aid the other person to commit the offense.

A person is criminally responsible for an offense committed by the conduct of another if in the attempt to carry out a conspiracy to commit one felony, another felony is committed by one of the conspirators, all conspirators are guilty of the felony actually committed, though having no intent to commit it, if the offense was committed in furtherance of the unlawful purpose and was one that should have been anticipated as a result of the carrying out of the conspiracy.

Robbery is a felony.

Voluntary intoxication does not constitute a defense to the commission of a crime.

Mere presence or even knowledge of an offense does not make one a party to an offense. Acts committed after the offense is complete cannot make one a party to an offense.

You are instructed that while the indictment alleges that the offense was committed on or about the 4th day of June, 2021, you are not bound to find that the offense, if any, took place on that specific date. It is sufficient if the alleged date is approximately accurate, and you find that the offense, if any, occurred prior to the 14^h day of September, 2021, the date of the return of the indictment in this case, and is not barred by the statute of limitations. There is no statute of limitations for the offense of Capital Murder.

CAPITAL MURDER

NOW, If you find from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that on or about the 4th day of June, 2021 in Collin County, Texas, the defendant, BRANDON DUPREE DALE, either acting alone or with another, namely Zachary Shoppa, Taylor James, or both, as a party to the offense, as that term is defined above, did then and there intentionally cause the death of Salah Eid, an individual, hereinafter called deceased, by striking deceased with a handgun, a deadly weapon, or by striking deceased with a crow bar, a deadly weapon, or by striking deceased with a pry bar, a deadly weapon, or by striking deceased with a baton, a deadly weapon, or by striking deceased with an object, a deadly weapon, whose exact nature and identity is unknown to the grand jurors, while the defendant was in the course of committing or attempting to commit the offense of robbery of deceased, then you will find the defendant guilty of Capital Murder as charged in the indictment.

Unless you so find from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, or if you have a reasonable doubt thereof that the defendant is guilty of capital murder as charged, you will acquit the defendant and say by your verdict “not guilty.”

All persons are presumed to be innocent and no person may be convicted of an offense unless each element of the offense is proved beyond a reasonable doubt. The fact that a person has been arrested, confined, or charged with an offense gives rise to no inference of guilt at his trial. The law does not require a defendant to prove his innocence or produce any evidence at all. The presumption of innocence alone is sufficient to acquit the defendant, unless the jurors are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt after careful and impartial consideration of all of the evidence in the case.

Our law provides that a defendant may testify in his own behalf if he elects to do so. This, however, is a privilege accorded a defendant, and, in the event he elects not to testify, that fact cannot be taken as a circumstance against him. In this case, the defendant has elected not to testify, and you are instructed that you cannot and must not refer or allude to that fact throughout your deliberations or take it into consideration for any purpose.

You are instructed that if there is any testimony before you in this case regarding the defendant's having committed offenses other than the offense alleged against him in the indictment in this case, you cannot consider said testimony for any purpose unless you find and believe beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant committed such other offense or offenses, if any were committed, and even then you may only consider the same for the purpose of determining motive, opportunity, intent, preparation, plan, knowledge, identity, absence of mistake, or lack of accident, and for no other purpose.

You are instructed that you are not to allow yourselves to be influenced in any degree whatsoever by what you may think or surmise the opinion of the Court to be. The Court has no right by any word or any act to indicate any opinion respecting any matter of fact involved in this case, nor to indicate any desire respecting its outcome. The Court has not intended to express any opinion upon any matter of fact in this case, and if you have observed anything which you have or may interpret as the Court's opinion upon any matter of fact in this case, you must wholly disregard it.

You are instructed that any statements of counsel made during the course of the trial or during argument not supported by the evidence, or statements of law made by counsel not in harmony with the law as stated to you by the Court in these instructions, are to be wholly disregarded.

You are further instructed that you should not question the Bailiff concerning the testimony or the law of the case, nor should you discuss the case in his presence. If you have any questions, you should reduce them to writing, to be signed by the presiding juror, and present them to the Court.

If the Jurors disagree as to the statement of any witness, they may, upon applying to the Court, have read to them from the Court Reporter's notes that portion of such witness' testimony, and only that portion, on the point in dispute.

You are instructed that the indictment is the means whereby a defendant is brought to trial in a felony prosecution. It is not evidence, nor can it be considered as such when passing upon whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty.

During your deliberations in this case, you must not consider, discuss, nor relate any matters not in evidence before you. You should not consider nor mention any personal knowledge or information you may have about any fact or person connected with this case which is not shown by the evidence.

After you retire to the jury room, you should select one of your members as your presiding juror. It is their duty to preside at your deliberations and vote with you. Your verdict must be unanimous and signed by the presiding juror.

You are the exclusive judges of the facts proved, of the credibility of the witnesses, and the weight to be given their testimony, but you must be governed by the law you receive in these written instructions.

You are charged that it is only from the witness stand that the jury is permitted to receive evidence regarding the case, and no juror is permitted to communicate to any other juror anything he might have heard regarding the case from any source other than the witness stand.

In all criminal cases the burden of proof is on the State and the defendant is presumed to be innocent until the defendant's guilt is established by legal evidence beyond a reasonable doubt; and, in case you have a reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt, you will acquit the defendant and say by your verdict "Not Guilty".

Suitable forms for your verdict are attached hereto. Your verdict must be in writing and signed by your presiding juror. Your sole duty at this time is to determine whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty under the indictment in this cause and you are to restrict your deliberations to that issue.

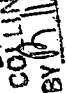

Signed this the 19th day of June, 2024.
