

JUDGE BOURESSA'S COURT PROCEDURES

The following procedures are adopted by Judge Bouressa for cases assigned to her in the First Division and are intended to aid parties and their attorneys in practice before the Court. These procedures supplement the Court's Local Rules.

I. Case Management

- A. Court Communication. Email is the Court's preferred method of communication (BCDivision1A@txcourts.gov). Include all parties or their counsel, if represented, on court communications, except in rare circumstances where inclusion would negate requested ex parte relief.
- B. Scheduling Orders. Use the form attached hereto (a Word version can be requested via email). In the absence of agreement, parties can submit competing orders or a single order with proposed alternatives for the Court's consideration.
 - 1. Trial Dates. A trial date will be set by the Court based on the commencement and/or removal date of the case and the appropriate time for resolution. Parties' agreements to extend deadlines to answer or appear will not delay trial. A case may be called to trial on the date set or within 14 days thereafter.
- C. Continuances. Continuances are heavily disfavored, particularly for dates agreed to by the parties. Good cause should be shown. Extension of pretrial deadlines does not guarantee a trial continuance.

II. Discovery

- A. Written Discovery. Limits on written discovery will be governed by the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the Texas Business Court, these procedures, and any modifications in Rule 11 agreements filed with the Court.
- B. Discovery Control Plans, Protective Orders, and ESI Protocols. Parties who cannot agree on discovery limitations may request a setting for entry of a discovery control plan, protective order, or ESI protocol; please e-file competing proposals in advance of any such setting.

- C. Discovery Motions Generally. Discovery motions should include only items on which agreement cannot be reached absent court intervention.
- D. Motions to Compel. No motion to compel written discovery will be considered unless the request and any objection or response are attached to the motion.
 - 1. To the extent practicable, the motion should group requests by similar subject-matter or similar legal objection.
 - 2. If set for oral hearing, movants should be prepared to identify the element(s) of any claim(s) or defense(s) that will be aided by discovery of the requested information.
- E. Attorney's Fees. Abusive discovery tactics will not be tolerated. Attorney's fees may be awarded against any party engaging in abuse of discovery, even upon the first instance of such conduct.

III. Hearings

- A. Settings Not Required. Orders on the following motions may be entered without necessity of a setting, provided that a proposed order is e-filed as a separate document at the same time as the motion:
 - 1. Motions for substitute/alternative service;
 - 2. Motions for default judgment;
 - 3. Motions for admission pro hac vice; and
 - 4. Unopposed motions seeking relief other than continuance of a trial setting.
- B. Settings Required. Opposed motions will not be considered unless set. It is the movant's obligation to obtain a setting.
 - 1. Available dates for both oral hearings and submission settings can be obtained from the Court Manager.
 - 2. Parties must confer on dates before setting any matter. If agreement cannot be reached, the movant may set the matter, and the non-movant may e-file objections to the movant's requested date or file any other appropriate motion.
 - 3. When conferring on hearing dates, parties should indicate whether they intend to offer live testimony.

- C. Oral Hearings. Unless arranged in advance with the Court, all oral hearings will be held in-person.
1. Notices. The movant must file and serve on all parties a notice of oral hearing that sets forth the date, time, and location of the hearing and states whether the hearing is evidentiary.
 2. Availability. When scheduling conflicts arise, general statements of (un)availability are not sufficient. A party seeking to avoid a particular hearing or trial date must be able to identify a specific conflict with the proposed date.
 3. Citations. Parties should be prepared to provide a citation to any statute, rule, or case referenced during an oral hearing.
 4. Demonstratives/Exhibits. At least four hard copies of any slides, exhibits, or other documents should be brought to each hearing. Additional copies may be required for evidentiary hearings.
- D. Submission. Motions other than discovery motions* may be set for submission without oral argument upon agreement of the parties, unless the Court, in its discretion, requests oral hearing.

*As set forth in II.B., submission settings are available for entry of a discovery control plan, protective order, or ESI protocol.

IV. Case Resolution

- A. Trials. As a general rule, older cases take priority.
1. Trial Time. Parties should be prepared to address the time needed for their case, calculated in hours, at the pretrial hearing. All trials will have time limitations.
 2. Final Judgment After Trial. Within 14 days after the return of a jury verdict, the parties should submit either a single judgment agreed as to form or competing versions to the Court via email in Word format.
 3. Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. Within 10 days after any party timely files a request for findings of fact and conclusions of law, proposed findings and conclusions should be submitted to the Court via email in Word format.

B. Settlement Announcements.

1. To have a trial setting removed from the Court's docket due to settlement, one of the following must occur:
 - (a) The filing of a non-suit or agreed dismissal signed by each party with pending claims;
 - (b) The filing of an agreed judgment signed by all parties; or
 - (c) The filing of a notice of settlement signed by all parties, and, where a jury demand has been made, a waiver of jury trial by all parties.

Emailed notice is not sufficient.

2. Settled cases will not be held on the Court's docket for more than 45 days. If the parties fail to submit final dispositive orders to the Court within 45 days after announcing settlement, the Court will presume the parties desire entry of a dismissal with prejudice and will enter the same without further notice, unless extended by prior order of the Court.
